Duration: 2 Days

Venue: Cardiff

Book Today Finance made Easy and Engaging

Overview

To function effectively, managers of today are under increasing pressure to understand finance and financial systems. They can be presented with Financial Statements which claim to monitor their department or company performance. However, these statements are often designed by accountants and in many cases can only be understood by accountants.

ECOM has developed a 2-Day Finance Programme specifically for the non-financial manager that cuts through typical accountancy jargon and explains the fundamental principals of finance systems in laymen's terms.

Who should attend

Although these programmes are run by qualified accountants with years of practical experience in the Manufacturing and Service industries, the programme has been targeted towards Managers with no financial control experience.
